We at vdArtphoto International find it very important that our clients (you) are made sure: personal data collected by us is always treated with the utmost care, always in an ethical way, and according to the current legal obligations and moral norms.

Due to our line of work collecting personal data is inevitable, however, we want to make sure that all our clients can easily access and see through every procedure we have for controlling and dealing with such data. So we urge all of you to please read our Privacy Policy and should you have any questions, feel free to ask us for more information on this matter!

We declare that our clients always have the right to withdraw any consent given or to be forgotten.

We believe that just like in the previous years, all our clients will continue to feel the trustworthy, ethical and customer-friendly attitude of the vdArtphoto International team even in regards to processing personal data.

We thank you for your continuing trust and support!

Types of personal data processed by vdArtphoto International:

(What kind of data do we ask from you?)

Name, E-mail address, phone and cell numbers, photographs, voice and video recordings, invoicing data, as well as data necessary for signing a contract, such as your mother's name, your birth name (maiden name), your home address and mailing address and your ID number (eg.: passport or driver's license).

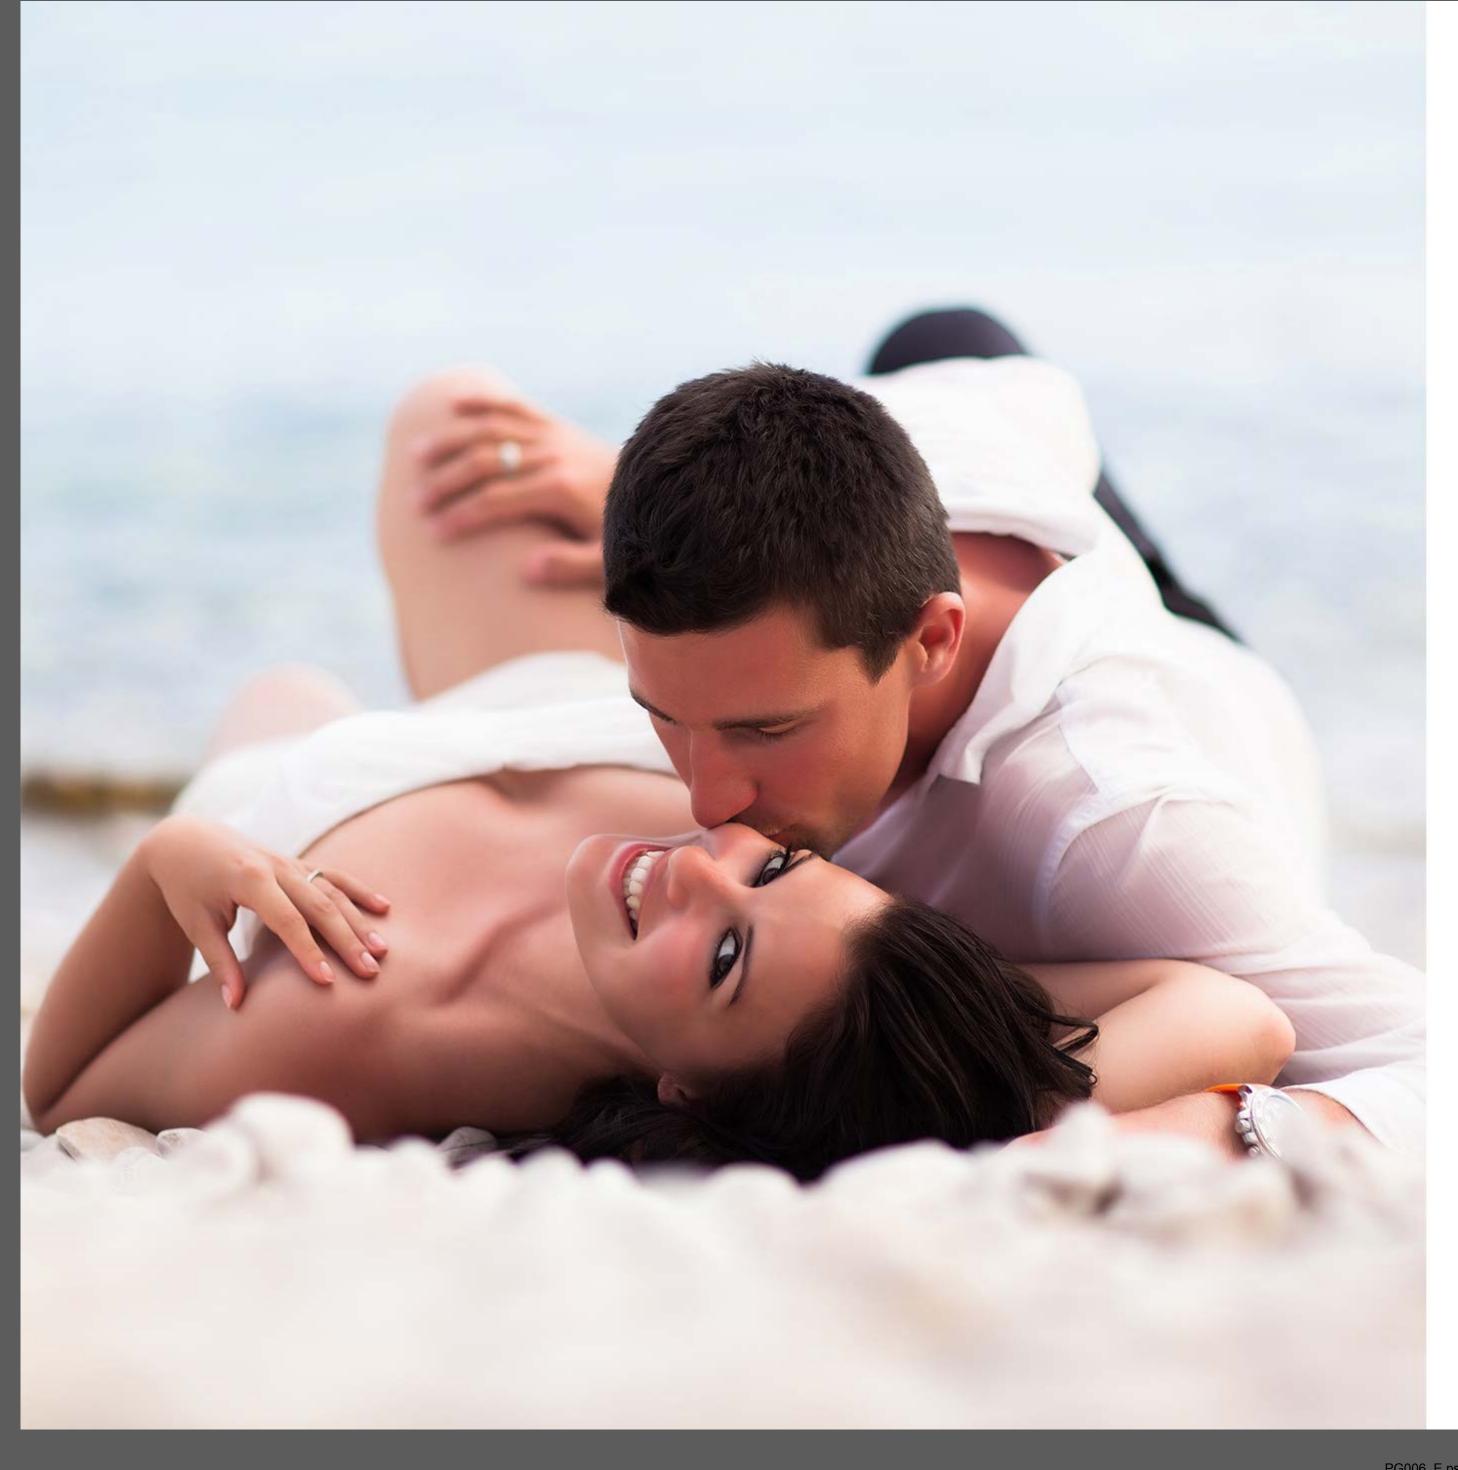

Legal basis for processing & collecting personal data by vdArtphoto International:

(What right do we have to ask for your personal data?)

On one hand, we at vdArtphoto International collect personal data based on legal rights (such as contractual rights, invoicing obligations), and also, we collect personal data based on consent (explicit consent when necessary), after thoroughly informing all our previous, current and future clients about our Privacy Policy.

vdArtphoto International's purpose of processing personal data:

(What do we want to do with your data? How do we want to use it?)

We at vdArtphoto International only use the collected data in communicating with and informing our current clients and our potential, future clients; and also for our own marketing and business purposes. (Please, keep on reading for further info on that.) In some cases we also use the photographs for competitions, as well as for on-line or off-line media purposes.

We NEVER GIVE OUT your personal data to third parties for money, and to third parties in general*, and we ONLY USE THEM for marketing closely related to our main services.

*except to some print companies when ordering printed materials, and to our accountant for accounting purposes, and to other third party subcontractors necessary for providing you with some of our services. If needed, to legal or professional advisors and authorities.

Storing, processing and accessing personal data collected by vdArtphoto International:

(Where and how do we store, protect and process your data and who has access?)

We at vdArtphoto International only store your digital personal data on our own computers and external drives, and some of the data (eg.: e-mails, phone numbers, copies of contracts and invoices, photos, voice and video recordings) are also stored on our cell phones. Our computers and external drives are kept in an alarm-equipped private home, in an office with a key. Also, computers are password protected. Data stored on cell phones are protected with double passwords.

We at vdArtphoto International find it very important to keep your personal data safe and secure, and apart from our trusted third parties (such as accountant, print company) no other person can gain access to them but Andrea and Aron Vargyasi-David. If necessary, we use Google Drive as a cloud-based backup, and in that case we use the data protection system provided by Google Drive.

Storing, processing and accessing personal data collected by vdArtphoto International:

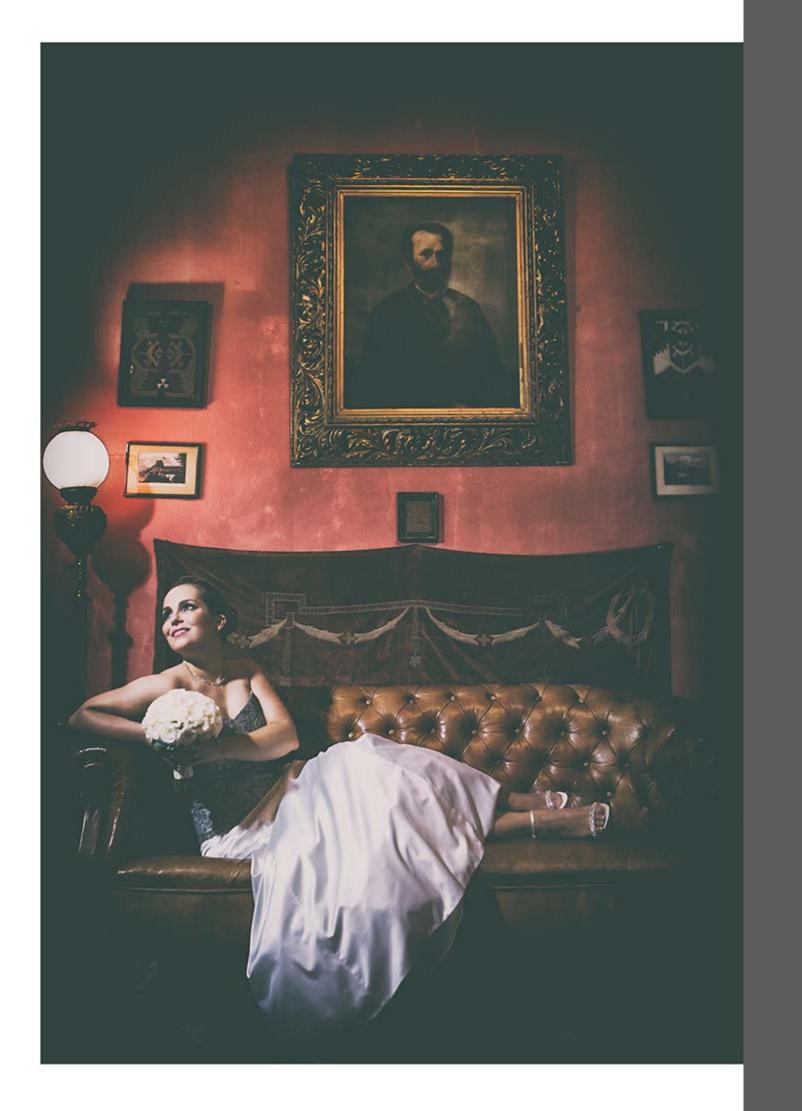

(Where and how do we store, protect and process your data and who has access?)

Non-digital (paper based) documents holding personal data (such as contracts, invoices, photobooks, printed marketing materials, etc.) are also stored in an alarm-equipped private home, in an office with a key.

Márta Márki, as our accountant, has access to contracts and invoices, besides Andrea Vargyasi-Dávid and Áron Vargyasi-Dávid.
In case of any emergencies affecting the data processing abilities of vdArtphoto International (eg.: accident, serious illness, emergency, death), those who overtake our data will inform all our clients of their own privacy policy.

Printed photobooks can be accessed for viewing by potential clients, and printed marketing materials holding photos (such as flyers) are logically given out to potential clients. If printing is necessary, your photos are confidentially given out to a third party print company.

Any incidents that could lead to data breach are reported to NAIH within 72 hours after discovery and to affected clients within 8 work days.

The processing duration of personal data collected by vdArtphoto International:

(How long and why do we keep your data?)

Bearing in mind the interests of our clients, we keep your personal data (digital and/or printed) until you ask us in writing to erase them, using the andrea.vd@vdartphoto.com e-mail address.

We do our best to keep your wedding and event photos, voice and video recordings safe as long as we can, in order to provide you with a free copy in case you lose such precious data. Of course, all our clients have the right not to use this opportunity. In that case, we keep personal data until the services from our contract are completely fulfilled, plus one month for warranty reasons. Some contractual and invoicing data will be kept for as long as we are legally obliged to keep them.

Withdrawing personal data from vdArtphoto International; submitting data processing requests and/or complaints:

(How can you withdraw your data from us? Where to turn to with requests and complaints?)

You can change your mind regarding all your personal data and/or given consent, and can easily withdraw them partly or fully anytime you feel necessary. Please know that doing so will never cause you any disadvantage with our services. If you would like to withdraw your data, please send your request to andrea.vd@vdartphoto.com and we will process it and make the necessary adjustments as soon as we can, but maximum within 30 days. Also, using that e-mail address, you can ask for information on any or all your personal data processed by us, and you can request that a copy of all data should be sent to you. If by any chance you might feel that we do not process your personal data properly, please contact us with your complaint at the above e-mail address. If we cannot resolve the problem, you may turn to the legal authorities.

Placement and usage of personal data collected by vdArtphoto International:

(Where will you find the collected data?)

Personal data necessary for signing a contract, digital or paper based, can be found written within the contracts. Personal data necessary for invoicing, digital or paper based, can be found written in the invoices. Names and e-mail addresses, photos, copies of contracts and invoices, voice and video recordings are also found in our computers, external drives and phones.

We use the photographs, voice and video recordings in the following ways:

Advertising, marketing, promotional and other purposes, in on-line or off-line media, including, but not restricted to the examples below:

www.vdartphoto.com; www.facebook.com/vdartphoto; www.vimeo.com/vdartphoto; www.instagram.com/vdartphoto; blog posts; articles; forums; service offers; service brochures; digital or printed informational materials regarding our services; photobooks; flyers; printed or online advertisements; competitions; in printed or on-line media; illustrating educational materials and lectures

THANK YOU FOR READING OUR PRIVACY POLICY! HOPE TO SEE YOU SOON FOR AN AMAZING PHOTOSHOOT WITH VDARTPHOTO INTERNATIONAL!
